REMORSEFUL WIFE
PLUNGES TO DEATH
IN HUSBAND'S SIGHT

Her Past Preyed on Mrs. John Heef's Conscience Despite Man's Forgiveness.

Brooding over a past whose shadows darkened her married life brought death early today to Mrs. Anna Martha Heef, of No. 445 East Forty-first Street. After confessing to her husband, John Heef, that her life prior to their marriage, nine years ago, had not been what she thought it, she hurried herself six stories to death in his presence from the roof of the apartment house where they lived.

For two years and a half, her husband says, Mrs. Heef had worried over her confession to him. Daily she had gone to church, and knelt for hours, praying forgiveness. Almost nightly she pleaded with him not to blame her.

Heef told her they would forget the past and continue their marriage relations as they had been before the shadow of her former life had intruded upon their happiness, but this did not seem to satisfy her.

"You are a good man," she often said, "and I am not a good enough woman for you. Some day I want you to have the kind of woman you deserve."

Last night, Heef says, his wife seemed especially despondent. As he was leaving the house for work at 7 o'clock this morning, she stopped him. "John, I'm such a bad woman and you're such a good man," he says she repeated. "When I'm gone, I want you to get a good girl."

She asked him to wait a moment and left the room. When she did not return Heef followed. Her voice called him to the roof of the building. He saw her standing near the edge, gazing down into the airway six stories below.

"Goodbye, John!" she cried. "I'm a bad woman and you're a good man." Before Heef could seize her she had hurled herself over and plunged to death. Heef was in a state of hysterical collapse when the police and ambulance surgeons arrived.

His wife's past was first revealed to him, Heef said, by her sister after a quarrel between the two women nearly three years ago. After the sister had told him her story Heef taxed his wife with her charges and she admitted them. He forgave her when she vowed her life had changed upon their marriage and they agreed to forget. But for her began then the years of remorse that ended with today's tragedy.

TO RECALL HOBOKEN MAYOR.

Rathskeller Held Used as the Basis

to Oust Griffin and "Me Too

McFeeley."

Mayor Patrick Griffin of Hoboken is to be recalled, according to the announcement by William P. Verdon following a meeting of the Republican Executive Committee last night. Verdon and his forces say they will have no trouble getting the necessary 25 per cent. of Hoboken's 9,000 registered voters.

Public interest has been centred around Mayor Griffin ever since Sheriff Kinkaid raided the rathskeller a fortnight since and made public conditions which he said showed Hoboken as a sink of iniquity.

Mr. Verdon says Bernard McFeeley, Commissioner of Fire and Police, known as "Me Too McFeeley," will be included in the recall.

SOLDIER AND LAWYER
URGED FOR POSTMASTER

Gen. Hamilton Backed by Strong Influence to Be Morgan's Successor.

The appointment of Gen. Henry De Witt Hamilton, formerly Adjutant General of the State, to be Postmaster of New York is being urged by some influential men, and his name has been presented by Congressman Dooley. His friends claim that his thirty years' military service will insure system and discipline in the Post Office, and that his training as a lawyer will make him see that postal treaties and laws are correctly construed and obeyed. As Adjutant General he made a clean record. One thing he did was to build a rifle range for $18,000 in four months, replacing the abandoned one at Blauvelt, which cost $475,000 and four years' time. He was a Wilson Presidential Elector.

SPRINKLERS QUENCHED
NIGHT FACTORY FIRE

No Work for the Firemen When They Come, Except to Turn Off the Water.

When the first batch of more than 100 girls who are employed in the seven story factory building at Nos. 440-444 Canal Street went to the structure this morning the outside was crusted with ice. One of them entered with a pass key and found that the interior of the building was filled with smoke.

The girls then raised a cry of "Fire" and a policeman who responded made his way to the sixth floor, occupied by the Germania Knitting Works. Here he found that a fire had started during the night or early morning, but that automatic sprinklers had done the work of firemen. When the temperature in the place reached a certain height dozens of plugs in the extinguishers were opened and streams of water drowned out the flames.

Water still was flowing from the pipes when the policeman entered the place. He sent in a call for firemen, who found the only work for them was to turn off the water and face a fire of badinage from the factory girls. The damage, due entirely to water, was $5,000.

Congress Bill Swamp Printers.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Although the big presses of the government printing office are running night and day, the printing of all the bills which flooded the House and Senate on the opening days of the session, has not yet been completed. The public printer estimates that the task will be completed to-morrow. That would make nearly five years devoted by the government's presses to this single item.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR,
LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally that Nobody can tell.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.—Advt.
